Dearborn woman wins WelcomeHomeDearborn.com drawing

September 10, 2008

DEARBORN - Joy Buck, a longtime Dearborn resident and retired realtor, is winner of the WelcomeHomeDearborn.com random online drawing for a Zepto gaming computer donated by Zepto USA, www.zeptousa.com, and customized by Laptop Design USA, www.laptopdesignusa.com, both Dearborn companies.

The online drawing was held in August, beginning with Dearborn's annual Homecoming festival.

When notified about her win, Buck explained that she moved to Dearborn in 1968. Three generations of the family have attended and graduated from Dearborn High School, including husband Gerry in 1955, daughter Kelly Cialone in 1982, son Mike in 1986 and granddaughter Molly Shelton in 2007. Currently, granddaughter Abby Shelton is a junior at Dearborn High and Brenna Shelton is a fourth-grader at Haigh Elementary.

Joy Buck and her husband, now both retired, spend part of the year in Florida but look forward to coming home to Dearborn to their family. As the winner of a gaming computer, she admits her six grandchildren will likely encourage her to spend more of the year in Dearborn.

"It's fitting that someone who is a resident and enthusiastic supporter of Dearborn should win," said Mayor Jack O'Reilly, who congratulated Joy Buck during the recent presentation of the computer at Dearborn City Hall.

The online drawing was created to bring visitors to the WelcomeHomeDearborn.com Web site as part of the city's ongoing efforts to attract homebuyers and retain current homeowners.

"No matter where I travel with my new laptop, a little bit of our hometown will go with me," said Joy Buck, who referenced the laptop lid that was specially customized with scenes of Dearborn.
